The Canadian Experience Class (CEC)

Temporary Foreign Workers and Students who recently graduated with a Canadian educational credential, often have the qualities to make a successful transition from temporary to permanent resident status in Canada. They are familiar with Canadian society and can contribute to the Canadian economy.

If you are a Temporary Foreign Worker or a recent foreign graduate working in Canada, you may apply for permanent residence by using this application package. You should have knowledge of English or French and qualifying work experience.

Who may use this application?

Applications for Permanent Residence under the Canadian Experience Class can be submitted by:

- temporary foreign workers; or
- recent foreign graduates with a Canadian educational credential.

In addition, applicants must have work experience in a managerial, professional, skilled trade or technical occupation.

Note: Foreign nationals such as refugee claimants in Canada and workers without status (undocumented) are not eligible to apply under this category.

Other classes

This application package is only for applicants in the Canadian Experience Class. If you think you may qualify to apply under a different class, consult the chart below.

Canadian Experience Class
Do you intend to reside in Quebec?

Temporary Foreign Workers and recent foreign graduates who want to stay in Quebec do not qualify under the Canadian Experience Class. Under the Canada-Quebec Accord on Immigration, Quebec establishes its own immigration requirements and selects immigrants who will adapt well to living in Quebec. If you intend to come to Canada as a Quebec-selected skilled worker, you must first contact the Ministère de l’Immigration et des Communautés culturelles (MICC) at:
http://www.micc.gouv.qc.ca/fr/index.asp

National Occupation Classification (NOC)

The National Occupation Classification (NOC) is the official governmental classification system of occupations in the Canadian economy. It describes duties, skills, aptitudes, and work settings for occupations in the Canadian labour market.

Note: For the purpose of Canadian Experience Class applications, the "Employment Requirements" listed in the description of each occupation are not applicable.

The NOC 2006 can be accessed on-line at: http://www5.hrsdc.gc.ca/NOC/

Determining your NOC category

Follow these steps to determine if your work experience is in an occupation that meets the minimum requirement to apply under the Canadian Experience Class:

STEP 1. Go to the NOC Web site at http://www5.hrsdc.gc.ca/NOC/English/NOC/2006/Welcome.aspx

STEP 2. Click on “Search the NOC…”

STEP 3. If you have work experience in occupations that meet the minimum requirements for workers with Skill Type 0, or Skill Level A or B (management, professionals and skilled and technical occupations) of the National Occupation Classification (NOC) you are eligible to apply under the Canadian Experience Class category. Work experience in several occupations may also be used.

Language knowledge requirement

Each applicant must demonstrate that they meet the minimum language requirements according to their occupational skill level by providing evidence of their abilities in English or French (speaking, reading, listening and writing).

There are two ways to demonstrate your language abilities: taking a Third Party Language test or providing a written submission. For the purpose of language proficiency, your test results or written submission will be matched to the Canadian Language Benchmarks 2000/Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens 2006 (CLB/NCLC). CIC uses the CLB/NCLC to determine your language proficiency.

Descriptions corresponding to the CLB/NCLC can be viewed in their entirety on our Web site at: http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/factor-language.asp

Note: There is no Canadian Language Benchmark/Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadien test. The Canadian Language Benchmarks/Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadien are descriptions of language abilities. CIC visa officers use these descriptions to determine your language abilities based on the written evidence you provide.
If you have qualifying Canadian work experience at Skill Type 0 or Skill Level A of NOC, your test results must match the CLB/NCLC below (see chart):

- 7 or higher for each of the language abilities, or
- 6 for any one of the language abilities, 7 or higher for any other two of those abilities and 8 or higher for the remaining ability,

If you have qualifying Canadian work experience at Skill Level B of NOC, your test results must match the CLB/NCLC below (see chart):

- 5 or higher for each of those abilities, or
- 4 for any one of those abilities, 5 or higher for any other two of those abilities and 6 or higher for the remaining ability.

Proof of Language Proficiency

At time of the application, you will need to:

- submit language test results from a designated testing agency or
- establish your proficiency levels through a written explanation and supporting documentation.

CIC strongly advises that you provide the results of a language test if English or French is not your first language. Written submissions are only recommended for applicants whose first language is English or French.

If you have some abilities in both English and French, decide which of the two you are more comfortable using; this will be considered your first official language and will be the one in which your abilities will be assessed against the minimum requirements.

Option 1

Take a language proficiency test from a designated testing agency

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Steps</th>
<th>Action</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1     | Make an arrangement for testing and pay the test costs. A list of designated testing agencies can be found at: http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/language-testing.asp
Language Instruction for Newcomers to Canada (LINC) is not a designated testing agency for applicants under the Canadian Experience Class. |
| 2     | Submit the assessment results with your application.
Note: When submitting test results, you will have the benefit of knowing whether you meet the minimum language requirements before submitting your application. |
| 3     | Your test results must not be more than one year old at the time that you submit your application. |
Note: Test results will be used as conclusive evidence of your language proficiency.

Using your test results

Once you have taken a language test from a designated testing agency, you can determine if you meet the language requirements for CEC.

Option 2

Establish your proficiency levels through a written explanation and supporting documentation

If you believe that you can clearly demonstrate your level of proficiency through a written submission, follow the instructions in the table below.

<td>• Based on this evidence, the officer will make an assessment as to whether you meet the minimum language requirements for your skill level in all four abilities (speaking, listening, reading and writing).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Your education and training in English or French;</td>
<td>• CIC officers will not interview you to assess your proficiency levels.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Your work experience in English or French; and</td>
<td>• Your submission must satisfy the officer that your language skills meet the benchmarks for your skill level in all four abilities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Any other contexts in which you may wish to provide details on your use of English or French (such as the language spoken in the home or in social situations).</td>
<td>Note: You will not know in advance of application whether you have satisfied the officer in meeting the minimum requirements. That is why this option is only recommended for those whose first language is English or French.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Gather documentation which supports the claims made in your submission and submit these documents with your immigration application. Supporting documents should include:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Degrees, diplomas, certificates and transcripts of all education completed in English or French;</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Documentation that supports your work experience in English or French, such as letters from employers, pay stubs, samples of your work, etc.; and</td>

If any of the required documents are missing, or photocopies are not clear, your application may be returned to you.

Medical requirements

You and your family members, whether accompanying you or not, must undergo and pass a medical examination in order to come to Canada. To pass the medical examination you or your family members must not have a condition that:

- is a danger to public health or safety
- would cause excessive demand on health or social services in Canada.

Examples of “excessive demand” include ongoing hospitalization or institutional care for a physical or mental illness.

Instructions

Information on medical instructions will be provided to you. When you receive your assessment notice you will also receive medical forms for yourself (and any accompanying dependants if applicable), instructions and how to access a list of doctors in your area who are authorized to conduct immigration medical examinations (see below). You are not required to have a medical examination before you submit your application forms.

Exam validity

The medical examination results are valid for 12 months from the date of the first medical examination. If you are not admitted as a permanent resident during this time, you must undergo another complete medical examination.

Authorized doctors

Your own doctor cannot do the medical examination. You must see a physician on Canada’s list of Designated Medical Practitioners at http://www.cic.gc.ca/dmp-md/medical.aspx.

Note that the physician is only responsible for conducting a medical examination; he or she cannot give you any advice on the immigration process.
Police certificates

You and your family members who are 18 years of age and older and are not permanent residents or Canadian citizens have to provide:

- a valid police certificate, or
- police clearance, or
- record of no information.

These documents are to be provided for each country other than Canada, in which you have lived for six consecutive months or longer since reaching the age of 18.

Note: If you or your family members were under 18 years of age (16 years of age in certain jurisdictions) for the entire time you lived in a particular country, you do not need to provide a police certificate for that country.

The certificate must have been issued no more than three months prior to submitting your application. If the original certificate is neither in English nor in French, submit both; the certificate and the original copy of a translation prepared by an accredited translator.

It is your responsibility to contact the police or relevant authorities. When doing so, you may have to:

- pay a fee for the service, and
- provide information or documentation such as:
  - photographs,
  - fingerprints,
  - your addresses and periods of residence in the country or territory.

We will also do our own background checks to determine if there are grounds under which you and your dependants may be inadmissible to Canada.

Please consult our Web site for specific and up-to-date information on how to obtain police certificates from any country.

Translation of documents

Any document that is not in English or French must be accompanied by:

- the English or French translation; and
- an affidavit from the person who completed the translation; and
- a certified copy of the original document.

Note: An affidavit is a document on which the translator has sworn, in the presence of a commissioner authorized to administer oaths in the country in which the translator is living, that the contents of their translation are a true translation and representation of the contents of the original document.
Translations by family members are not acceptable.

Certified copies or notarized documents

To have a copy certified, an authorized person must compare the original document to the photocopy and must print the following on the photocopy:

- “I certify that this is a true copy of the original document”
- the name of the original document
- the date of the certification
- his or her name
- his or her official position or title
- his or her signature

Who can certify copies?

Use of a Representative (IMM 5476)

Who may use this form?
Complete this form only if you are appointing a representative.

If you have dependent children aged 18 years or older, they are required to complete their own copy of this form if a representative is also conducting business on their behalf.

What is a representative?
A representative is someone who has your permission to conduct business on your behalf with Citizenship and Immigration Canada.

When you appoint a representative:
- you authorize CIC to share information from your case file to this person;
- your application will not be given special attention nor can you expect faster processing or a more favourable outcome;
- they are authorized to represent you only on matters related to the application you submit with this form; and
- you can appoint only one representative for each application you submit.

You are not obliged to hire a representative. We treat everyone equally, whether they use the service of a representative or not.

⚠️ You must notify us if your representative’s contact information changes or if you cancel the appointment of a representative.

Types of representatives

There are two types of representatives.

Unpaid representatives can be:
- friends and family members who do not charge a fee for their advice and services;
- organizations that do not charge a fee for providing immigration advice or assistance (such as a non-governmental or religious organization);
- consultants, lawyers and Quebec notaries who do not, and will not, charge a fee to represent you.

Paid representatives:
If you want us to conduct business with a representative who is, or will be charging a fee to represent you, they must be authorized. Authorized representatives are:
- immigration consultants who are members in good standing of the Canadian Society of Immigration Consultants (CSIC);
- lawyers who are members in good standing of a Canadian provincial or territorial law society and students-at-law under their supervision;
- notaries who are members in good standing of the Chambre des notaires du Québec and students-at-law under their supervision.
If you appoint a paid representative who is not a member of one of these designated bodies, your application will be returned. For more information on using a representative, visit our Web site: www.cic.gc.ca.

What Happens Next

The application process

Submission

Completion check: Once you have submitted your application, we will check to determine that all required application forms have been properly completed and submitted, the application processing fee has been paid, and that all requested supporting documentation has been provided.

If your application package does not meet these requirements, we will return it to you. No file will be created or record kept until a complete application has been submitted.

Acknowledgment of receipt: If your application is complete, we will begin to process it. You will be sent a letter that:

- notifies you of this fact and provides you with your visa office file number
- sets out some basic instructions for contact with the visa office
- gives you a brief outline of future processing steps

Processing

Review for decision
Your application will undergo a detailed review by a Visa Officer. The Officer will consider all the information and documentation you have provided, and will assess it against current selection standards.

Factors that facilitate processing
There are certain things you can do to help ensure that your application is processed as promptly as possible:

- make sure that all the documentation and information requested is provided at the time the application is made (submitted).
- make sure that you notify the visa office promptly of any and all changes to your mailing address, family situation, or any other information that is important to your application, such as additional education or work experience.
- refrain from making unnecessary inquiries to the visa office regarding the status of your case.
Factors that may delay processing

The following factors may delay the processing of your application:

- unclear photocopies of documents
- documents not accompanied by a certified English or French translation
- verification of information and documents provided
- a medical condition that may require additional tests or consultations
- a criminal or security problem
- family situations such as impending divorce, or custody or maintenance issues completion of legal adoption
- consultation is required with other offices in Canada and abroad

Permanent resident status

If your application is successful, you and your family members will receive status as permanent residents of Canada. Some conditions will apply:

- You will remain a permanent resident until you become a Canadian citizen, as long as you spend at least two years of each five year period in Canada.
- You may leave and re-enter Canada as often as you wish.

Rights

As permanent residents, you and your family members will have the right to:

- live, study and work in Canada for as long as you remain permanent residents
- access most social benefits accorded to Canadian citizens (see “Limitations”)
- apply for Canadian citizenship, and once granted, apply for a Canadian passport (once you have been a legal permanent resident for three of the four previous years)

Limitations

There are a few limitations on permanent residents:

- You cannot vote in certain elections.
- You may be ineligible for certain jobs requiring high-level security clearances.
- If you or any of your family members commit a serious crime, you or your family members risk being deported from Canada.

Obligations

As permanent residents, you will also have the same legal obligations as Canadians, such as paying taxes and respecting all federal, provincial, and municipal laws.

The Permanent Resident Card

All new permanent residents will be issued a card as part of the process. Cards will be mailed to your home address soon after you become a permanent resident. For more information on the Permanent Resident Card, visit our Web site.

You can check the status of your application on-line by doing the following:

1. Log on to our Web site at www.cic.gc.ca;
2. Go to Check My Application Status in the I need to...section on the right-hand side of the page.

Your personal information is

- only available to CIC employees who need to see it in order to provide the services to you, and
- not disclosed to anyone else without your written consent.

You can obtain additional information on the protection of your data by visiting the "Frequently Asked Questions" FAQ on our Web site.

Our quality assurance program randomly selects applications for a special review. If selected you will be asked to attend an interview with a Citizenship and Immigration official so that we can:

- verify the documentation you submitted is accurate;
- verify that your application has been completed properly.

You will be notified in writing should your application be selected.
